

RACHEL'S SHOPPE

REQUESTING A COMMISSION.

GETTING STARTED

Step 1: Let's Talk About The Details.

The first step to any custom piece is to begin talking about your vision and what you're looking for. This is done over email and I encourage you to send pictures of your space, past paintings I've done, and any color inspiration that is catching your eye with your request. By sending me any and all inspiration, I am able to assess whether or not the custom you're looking for is something I can do and if my work will accurately capture your vision. All custom work is done in acrylic paint and depending on what you choose, will either be on 1.5 inch stretched canvas or acid-free paper.

Step 2: What Will It Cost?

All commission prices are based on size, not details or subjects in the painting itself. Commissioned work does not include shipping. If you are curious about shipping estimates, please ask!

Commissioned work is paid in two parts: 50% upfront, in a non-refundable deposit and 50% upon completion only if you are happy with your finished piece. Deposits will be paid via invoice sent to your preferred email.

If you are unhappy with the finished piece, your deposit will not be refunded. This deposit covers cost of labor, supplies, and time invested into your piece.

It is important to note that while I will recreate my own work, I do not do commission requests based off the art of another artist. All copyrights and claims to the custom artwork remain with me, the artist. Any reproduction of my work for any purpose needs written consent by me.

Step 3: Your Next Steps.

Once you have chosen your size, please let me know and the first invoice will be sent over. When the invoice is paid, supplies will be ordered and work on your custom piece will begin.

Together we will discuss and finalize a color palette. You will be sent a photo of the rough draft composition and the color swatch to give you an idea of the overall look of the piece.

Once this sketch has been approved, it will be transferred to canvas and the first layers will be painted. I will not start painting until this first image is approved!

YOUR CUSTOM PIECE

Step 4: Estimated Timeline + Updates.

An estimated timeline will be talked about and agreed to before your piece is started. Most custom work is completed in 6 weeks.

You will be updated halfway through your piece to check in on progress and make any minor changes to the composition or color palette.

If there are any additional questions during the progression of your piece I will reach out and encourage you to do the same.

When your piece is nearing completion, I will reach out with photos of it to get any last thoughts and request for minor changes. No more than 30 minutes will be spent on requested corrections and touch-ups.

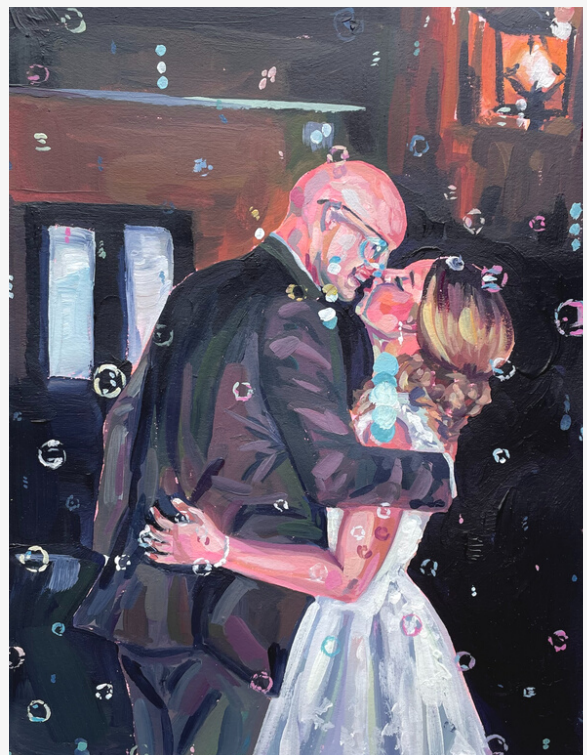

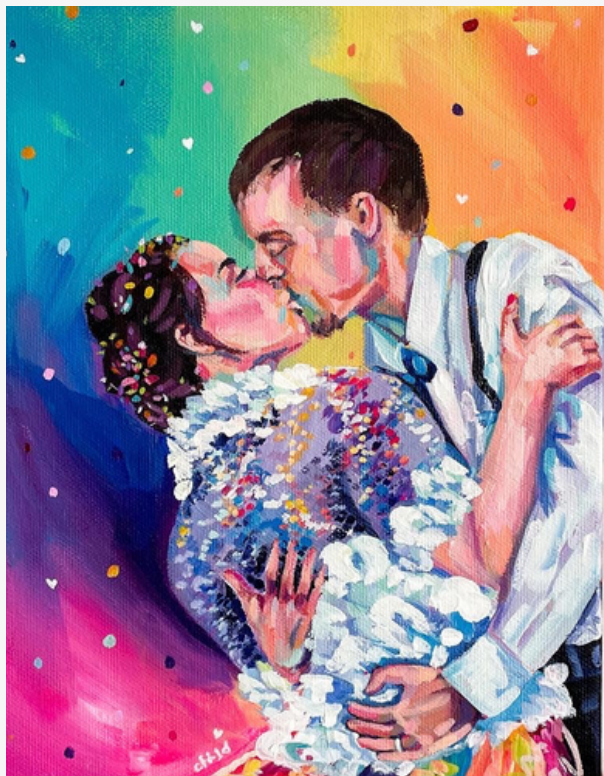

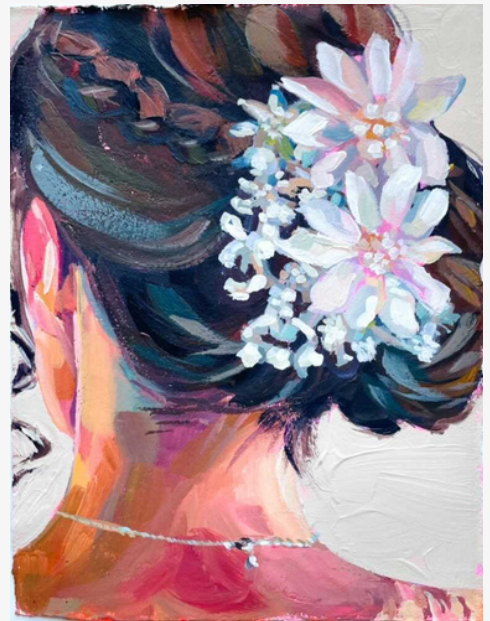

If everything looks good and you are happy with your custom piece of art, I will finish up the piece and varnish it to protect it for years to come.

Before your piece is shipped to you, you will be sent the final invoice and updated with an estimated ship date. Once your invoice is paid and your piece is ready, it will be shipped out and you will be updated with the tracking information.
